Summer School in HUNGARY at the University of Dunaújváros

Experience excellent academic content and have fun at the same time!

INTERCULTURAL COMMUNICATION, AND NEGOTIATION TECHNIQUES

CONTENT

In an age when we cross continents during our travels, work for international companies and carry out our tasks in international groups, it is an essential requirement that our communication skills are also suitable for these activities. In communication, people from different backgrounds meet and try to understand each other. However, for this communication, it is no longer enough to acquire general communication skills.

COURSE AIM

After studying this course, you will develop:

- ▶ cultural sensitivity
- ▶ communication skills
- ▶ language competences
- ▶ knowledge of cultural anthropology
- ▶ conflict management
- ▶ global awareness

The classes will be taught by highly experienced academics. Students will receive official Transcripts of Records upon completion of the program.
